

Hi, _____, this is (Your Name) from (Your Company).

How are you doing?

Great.

The reason why I called is that I'm in a real estate mastery program, and one of the things they mentioned is how important it is to help other business associates build their business, and of course, I thought of you.

I wanted to ask you if you are taking on any new clients? If so, what is the best way for me to refer people to you?

How should I tell them to contact you?

Great. I'll make sure I start sending business your way. By the way, who do you know that is thinking of buying or selling real estate?
