

“Hey, Mary. I just wanted to call and check in on you, see how you and your family are doing, and ask if you need anything! With so many changes in the market - I’m fielding a lot of questions from clients and wanted to let you know you can call me anytime if you ever have a question. You know, one thing I always recommend is that every homeowner have an updated market analysis every year. Your home is such a big investment, and it pays to know what it’s worth. I can help with that. Sound good?”
